Regularly ranked first among hotel management institutions, the Lausanne hotel school is situated on the heights of the city on the edge of a forested area. New Campus is an innovative project focused on sustainable management, arising from an international student forum. The one site will house the academic equipment for 3,000 students, a 450-seat restaurant and 600 bedrooms, as well as indoor and outdoor sports facilities. The construction site is organized in three stages, preserving the existing school facilities in operation. All buildings comply with the criteria of the Minergie-P label.
